

Snow Clarifications

Driveways: Driveway approaches affected during Phases I, II, and III are the responsibility of the property owner or resident to clear.

Mailboxes and Fences: Mailboxes, newspaper delivery boxes or fences installed alongside the traveled roadway are at the risk of the owner. If an operator strikes a mailbox or fence with a plow, the operator will report it and we will repair it as soon as possible. Mailboxes and fences damaged by snow load during normal plowing operations are not the responsibility of the County. If a mailbox is struck by a plow, it will be replaced with a standard rural mailbox. Postal regulations require residents to clear snow in front of mailboxes to allow for mail delivery.

Snow Pushed onto County Street or Right-of Way: The practice of pushing or throwing snow onto or across Jefferson County streets endangers the traveling public as well as county snowplow operators. Jefferson County residents as well as private contractors may receive a warning and/or summons for snow pushed onto County streets and rights-of-way from sidewalks, driveways, parking lots, etc.

Vehicles Parked or Abandoned: Streets on which vehicles have been abandoned or otherwise parked so as to restrict the safe and continuous operation of snow removal equipment may not be plowed until those vehicles are removed.

Snowplowing in Jefferson County

The Williamsburg 2 neighborhood falls in unincorporated Jefferson County. The snow plowing in our neighborhood is not always ideal, however there are procedures and priorities the county will handle first. The Road & Bridge Division is currently responsible for snow removal on 2,900 lane miles of paved roads and 700 lane miles of gravel roads in the unincorporated areas of the County. One lane mile is a 10 foot wide section of road one mile long. State highways, private roads and newly constructed roads that have not been accepted by formal resolution of the Board of County Commissioners are not included.

Plowing and sanding operations will take place in four phases during a storm. The order in which streets are plowed in each phase is based on the following definitions of priority:

- Priority 1 - Main arterial streets that provide for high traffic volumes.
- Priority 2 - Major subdivision collectors, school zones and school bus routes.

- Priority 3 - Residential or other local roads that carry moderate to low traffic volumes.
- Priority 4 - Cul-de-sacs or other dead-end roads carrying very low traffic volumes.

Phase I: Initial opening of all Priority 1 through 3 streets in that order. Severity of the storm may delay response time for Priority 3 streets due to the fact that initial opening of major arterial streets requires that multiple lanes be plowed in each direction.

Phase II: Plowing and sanding of problem roads having steep inclines, curves, bridges or overpasses. Widening of any Priority 1 through 3 streets deemed necessary. Repeat plowing of all streets initially opened as snow continues to accumulate.

Phase III: Removal of packed snow and ice on all Priority 1 through 3 streets where possible and deemed necessary as snowfall accumulation stops. Plowing and sanding operations on Priority 4 streets will take place as resource availability allows. It could be several days after the snowstorm has ended before Priority 4 streets are initially plowed. Intermittent sanding as necessary by road priority.

Phase IV: Storm event is over. Continuation of widening operations to improve safe travel and prepare for additional accumulation during subsequent storms.

Application of Traction Materials: Sanding of most roads is limited during heavy snowfall because the sand is quickly covered and then removed as additional plowing occurs. When applying sand, special attention is given to sections of the road network posing specific safety concerns. These include, but are not limited to, areas such as: school and hospital zones, police and fire stations, bridges and overpasses, turn lanes, acceleration or deceleration lanes, approaches to intersections that are stop sign or signal controlled, curves, steep grades, heavy traffic areas, areas of ice accumulation, speed bumps, and areas with other known problems.

Emergencies

Snowed-in Jefferson County residents who experience a life-or-death emergency should call 911. The Sheriff's Office will work with Road and Bridge crews to get emergency vehicles through.

All other requests for emergency snowplowing should be directed to the Jefferson County Sheriff's Office. Valid requests will be forwarded to the Road and Bridge Division, which will respond as soon as possible.

For information about the plowing of streets in unincorporated Jefferson County you may call 303-271-5200 or visit the web site at: <https://www.jeffco.us/2838/Snow-Ice-Control>.

Denver-the Dog Lovin' Town

Recently, I wrote an article about dogs/leashes/etiquette and all things serious. This month, I thought I'd lighten it up with some fun facts! Did you know, Denver has more dogs than children. ... Denver Parks and Recreation estimates the city's dog population at about 158,000 across 99,000 households. That's more dogs than kids. About 140,000 children live in Denver, according to the latest U.S. Census estimates. And what are the most popular dog breeds in Denver? These might surprise you. They are:

- Australian Shepherd
- Border Collie
- Labradoodle
- Siberian Husky

The nation's overall most popular dog breed was the Mixed Breed, which continually tops lists of the most popular dog types in America, according to the study. Despite the wealth of information available on countless dog breeds, over one-third of owners did no research before choosing, instead selecting their pup based on "love at first sight," according to Rover. Here are the top 10 most popular dog breeds in the country for 2019:

- Mixed Breed
- Labrador Retriever
- Chihuahua
- Golden Retriever
- German Shepherd
- Yorkshire Terrier
- Shih Tzu
- Dachshund
- Boxer
- Goldendoodle

It's March—Happy New Year, Ancient Romans!

Welcome to the third month of the year—or, if you were born before 150 B.C., the first! According to the oldest Roman calendars, one year was ten months long, beginning in March and ending in December. It may sound crazy, but you can still see traces of this old system in our modern calendar: because December was the tenth month, it was named for the number ten in Latin (decem), just like September was named for seven (septem). So, what about January and February? They were just two nameless months called "winter," proving that winter is literally so awful it doesn't even deserve a spot on the calendar.

It's the best month for basketball (but worst for productivity)

For civilians, on the other hand, March is known for one thing above all others: brackets. March Madness, as the NBA calls it, runs from March 11 to April 2 this year, and the safest bet you can make is that lots and lots of people will be distracted. One number-crunching firm predicted last year that American companies would lose $1.9 billion in wages paid to unproductive workers spending company time on betting pool priorities. (Suffice it to say, March is not a productive month—this is the single most productive hour and month of the year.) How to recoup these costs? Go into gambling. According to the American Gaming Association, fans wagered more than $2 billion on March Madness brackets for the 2015 tournament. Each one of those 70-million-or-so brackets has a one in 9.2 quintillion (that's 9 followed by 18 zeroes) chance of predicting the correct winners of every game. Good luck!

Beware The Ides Of March Unless You're A Cat

We've all heard it uttered, but what does "beware the Ides of March" actually mean? On the Roman calendar, the midpoint of every month was known as the Ides. The Ides of March fell on March 15th. This day was supposed to correlate with the first full moon of the year (remember, winter didn't count then) and marked by religious ceremonies, but thanks to Shakespeare's Julius Caesar we know it for another reason. Supposedly, in 44 BC, a seer told Julius Caesar that his downfall would come no later than the Ides of March. Caesar ignored him, and when the fated day rolled around he joked with the seer, "The Ides of March have come." The seer replied, "aye, Caesar; but not gone." Caesar continued on to a senate meeting at the Theatre of Pompey, and was summarily murdered by as many as 60 conspirators. Ironically, the spot where Caesar was assassinated is protected in today's Rome as a no-kill cat sanctuary.

- March 14: Pi Day celebrates the annual occurrence of 3/14 with math jokes, pi-reciting competitions, and (of course) freshly baked pie.
- March 17: St. Patrick's Day turns the Chicago River green, and too many livers cirrhosis-damage-brown. And on this day in 1973, Pink Floyd's "Dark Side of The Moon" first hits the Billboard Top 200 chart at number 95. A mere 14 years later (736 chart weeks, to be exact), it finally leaves the top 200 for the first time, setting a still-unbroken world record.
