WILLIAMSBURG 2 GARAGE SALE:
June 4th & 5th

SUMMER BASH:
August 21st, 4:30 p.m. - 7:30 p.m.
Eagle Meadows Park

Clean Up Days

Big thanks to the Williamsburg 2 Neighbors that helped with the neighborhood clean up at the front entrance in May! If you notice something that needs a "pick me up" or trash laying in the neighborhood, roll your sleeves up and pick it up, spruce it up-or if you're not able, reach out to your HOA and let us know about it!

National Dairy Month

Dairy products contain nine essential nutrients which may help you better manage your weight and reduce your risk for high blood pressure, osteoporosis, and certain cancers. Whether it's protein to help build and repair the muscle tissue of active bodies or vitamin A to help maintain healthy skin, dairy products are a natural nutrient powerhouse.

If you think you're leading and turn around to see no one following, you're just taking a walk.

—Benjamin Hooks

Next HOA Meeting
HOA will be meeting remotely until further notice.

Williamsburg 2 Garage Sale is June 4-5th

We would like to thank Krista Bryant Reichow with Colorado Realty Pros for stepping up to sponsor our event. Being a neighborhood Realtor is important and if you are interested in buying property or selling your home, be sure to reach out to Krista since she supports our neighborhood! krista@coloradorealtypros.net 303-947-1221.

Williamsburg 2 "Summer Bash"

Mark your calendars now for the Williamsburg 2 "Summer Bash" on August 21st at Eagle Meadows Park from 4:30-7:30 p.m. We will have an ice cream food truck, BBQ, fun, live music, and a car show! Bring your awesome car and show it off! We know there are some wonderful cars in our neighborhood. If you have ideas for other fun things to do for this fun event, or you'd like to help out, reach out to Laura Blakey at: laurablakey@gmail.com

Covenant Reminder:

Summertime is the time for camping and fun! It is also not the time to leave your camper or trailer in front of your home for days at a time. Covenants are rules set forth for the Williamsburg 2 neighborhood. The rules apply to anyone who lives in Williamsburg II neighborhood. If you have a trailer and you're returning from a camping trip or getting ready to head out for one, of course you're going to need to pack or unpack your trailer and clean it up. Keeping it there all summer long, or for days at a time, however is against our covenants. Your trailer should be stored behind a six foot fence or off site in an appropriate storage area. In addition to our covenants, there are Jefferson County rules in relation to parking of recreational vehicles and trailers on the street. Be a good neighbor, a considerate neighbor, and store your recreational vehicle after you use it.

Get Out From Under Debt

Many of us feel snowed under with debt. It's possible to dig yourself out, but it takes work and perseverance. Follow this advice from the Press Democrat (Santa Rosa, California) website:

- Ask for help. Don't be afraid to apply for unemployment benefits or a loan. Financial advisors, bankers, and credit counselors can also help you figure out what to do.
- Watch for fraud. When you're feeling desperate, it's easy to fall for scams promising a quick payoff or making demands for instant payment. Don't share credit card information with anyone you don't know and trust.
- Refinance your debt. Interest rates have been at low levels for quite some time, so look into refinancing your mortgage, car loan, or other outstanding debt.
- Have a monthly plan. Keep track of how much you're spending each month, and how much you're bringing in. If you know where your money is going, you'll do a better job of controlling your overall finances.
- Keep retirement funds safe. Don't tap into your retirement accounts unless absolutely necessary. You may have to pay taxes on withdrawals, and you won't have the money when you need it later.

Facts About Your Father's Day Gift

Father's Day is June 20 this year, and the 65 million fathers in the United States (give or take a few million) will bask in familial attention and be showered with gifts—mostly neckties.

So where did neckties come from? The earliest known version dates back to 210 B.C., when the Chinese emperor Shih Huang Ti was buried in the ancient Chinese capital Tian. The 7,500 terra cotta warriors built to guard him in the afterlife all wore neck cloths, for reasons unknown.

Similarly, the Roman emperor Trajan erected a marble column in 113 A.D. commemorating a military victory; the 2,500 soldiers depicted all wore some form of cloth neck covering.

The modern necktie evolved from the small, knotted neckerchiefs worn by Croatian mercenaries working for the French in the Thirty Years' War. The word cravat derives from a combination of the French "Croate" and the Croatians' own name for themselves, "Hrvati."

With the rise of the business class in the 19th century, demand grew for neckwear that was durable, comfortable, and easy to tie.

In 1926, a New York tie maker named Jesse Langsdorf developed a technique that improved the tie's elasticity, which allowed it to more easily revert to its original shape. The "Langsdorf" became the most common form of necktie.

Since then, ties have widened as far as 4.5 inches and thinned to three inches (or skinnier) depending on the current style, but whatever their width, they seem to be here to stay.

How To Lead A Purposeful Life

The most successful people are those who have a strong sense of purpose at work—and in life. So how do you find your own unique purpose? Try this exercise:

- Identify what you do best. Look at your current job and your previous jobs, as well as activities outside work. Focus on what you do well, but don't ignore what you enjoy—usually we're good at tasks we like, and vice versa.
- Focus on helping others. Ask yourself what you enjoy doing that helps other people. That's usually more fulfilling than just earning a paycheck, and more valuable to employers and clients as well.

Combine those two elements—what you do best, and what benefits other people most—and you'll have a good idea of how to start moving toward a life that's based on purpose.

Defeat The Impostor Syndrome

Are you plagued by self-doubt no matter how much you accomplish? Many talented professionals in every field suffer from “impostor syndrome”—the worry that they’ll be revealed as incompetent if they make a single mistake. You can overcome it with this guidance from the Training Zone website:

- Ignore negative thoughts. Learn to turn away from doubt in your abilities. When you think, “I can’t do this,” remember the times you rose to a challenge and succeeded. Refocus your worries into affirmations: “I can do this,” “I’ve done this before,” “People believe in me,” and so on.
- Look for support. Surround yourself with people who are on your side. Pay attention to constructive critiques, but listen closely to people who know what you’re capable of and who value your contributions.
- Focus on your purpose. Remember what you’re trying to do in your career—not just making money, but helping people, creating better products, building a better society, supporting your family, and so forth. This will help you make clear decisions without needless worry.
- Recognize your doubts. Don’t try to shove your worries down—they’ll simmer in your subconscious and make problems when you can’t afford them. Confront your doubts openly. If you think you can’t carry out an assignment, tackle the obstacles one at a time. Come up with a game plan for overcoming whatever might get in your way.
- Don’t procrastinate. The longer you put off a task, the more time your doubts have to multiply. Tackle challenging jobs promptly. Completing them will reinforce your confidence.

First-Time Parents: Don’t Forget The Joy

The thrill of being a new parent can be overwhelming. So can the responsibilities that come with it. Don’t let the burdens get you down. Follow this advice for first-timers from the Local Talk News website:

- Include self-care in the mix. You’ve got a lot to do taking care of a newborn, but don’t neglect your own needs. Remember to sleep, eat, stay hydrated, exercise, and just relax when you can. Spend quality time with your partner so everything’s not just about the baby.
- Organize your day. Make up a schedule of tasks so you’re not just reacting to chaos in your household. You’ll have to be flexible, of course, but a plan for the day will help you feel in more control and help you manage time more effectively.
- Enjoy the simple things. Don’t always be in a hurry. Take some time to find some delight in your child’s laugh, a song on the radio, a flower you see on your walks, and other things you encounter throughout the day. It’ll help you relax and ease the tension of being responsible for a baby 24/7.
- Communicate. Don’t bottle up your feelings. Share your concerns with your partner, your doctor, your family, and your friends. You won’t feel so alone, and you’ll avoid burnout from lack of sleep and constant parenting. Share the joys, too, so people know you’re OK.
